Jeff I want to appeal the fact that the city building department is claiming that my plan check application has expired, according to what I recently sent you. Something to mention is Gilda seemed to beg Al Johnson for any way to consider my appeal, and he said or referred to you, you told me it was only considered for a permit, I beg to differ. The California building code differentiates between application and permits, but does give timelines, please refer to what I sent you, please file my appeal
